

Solvark UI/UX Design Specification (UXDS)

SUMMARY

Build a premium digital experience that feels like a modern technology product—not a traditional agency website. The interface should emphasize simplicity, motion, depth, and storytelling while maintaining excellent usability, accessibility, and performance.

PROJECT

Solvark Premium Website & Admin CMS

DESIGN VISION

Inspiration: The visual language should take inspiration from modern product-focused experiences while remaining distinctly Solvark. Design characteristics: Premium; Minimal; Futuristic; Human-centered; Technology-first; Motion-driven; 3D Interactive; Clean typography; Large spacing; Storytelling sections.

BRAND PERSONALITY

Innovation; Trust; Engineering Excellence; Creativity; Precision; Performance; Premium Quality. Users should immediately feel that they are working with a high-end software engineering company.

DESIGN PRINCIPLES

Less UI, More Experience: Avoid visual clutter. Motion with Purpose: Every animation should communicate hierarchy, navigation, or interaction. Storytelling: Each section should naturally lead users to the next section. Premium Feeling: Every pixel should feel intentional. Performance First: Visual richness must not compromise loading speed.

DESIGN ACCEPTANCE CRITERIA

The UI/UX design is considered complete when: Every page follows a unified design system; 3D interactions enhance usability without reducing performance; Content is manageable through the CMS; Homepage, portfolio, gallery, reviews, and offers are fully editable by administrators; Responsive behavior is verified across desktop, tablet, and mobile; Accessibility meets WCAG 2.2 AA guidelines; Core Web Vitals remain within recommended thresholds; The visual identity is recognizably Solvark, not a copy of another brand.

NEXT RECOMMENDED DOCUMENT

Design System & Component Library Specification, defining every reusable component (buttons, cards, forms, navigation, modals, tables, carousels, 3D viewers, galleries, and animation behaviors) for consistent implementation across the website and admin panel.
